DISCUSSION BOARD

FORUM

Addressing TIER III Behavior Intervention Strategies is one of the most pressing problems facing school leaders and teachers. What's worked for you and your school? What resources, professional development, improvement plans, meetings, activities, strategies that have helped in your school with this regard. We are looking for school leaders who have been able to find ways support teachers.

How it Works:

We open the Forum for one week (in this case Monday October 17 to Friday, October 21, 2022). Participants can check in on it over the week, make additions and see how our list of ideas grows.

All those who participate will receive an email record with a useful list of ideas they can share with teachers and use to lead TIER III Behavior Intervention improvement efforts.

A What Works – Give & Get Discussion Forum is an asynchronous event; school leaders can use to:

- GIVE: Share their ideas, strategies, tactics, tips or practices they have found to be effective in dealing with a specific issue
  - GET: Find ideas, strategies, tactics, tips or practices colleagues have found to be effective in dealing with a specific issue

OCT 26 | Building Professional Learning Communities - Community Of Practice

Wednesday | 10 am MT | 11 am CT | 12 pm ET | 9 am PT

**Live session will be recorded and be available to all those who register**

FREE 30-min WEBINAR

Building effective Professional Learning Communities is a critical function of all educational leaders. All research in educational improvement tells us that without some form of teacher collaborative teams there will be very little or no measurable improvement in student learning or well-being. We will explore the Building Professional Learning Communities - Community of Practice and show leaders how to use the resources; books, articles, videos organized around a step-by-step process to support school and district leaders in establishing effective professional learning communities.

FREE 30-min WEBINAR

To become impactful, the leadership team must establish shared measurable goals nested within a vision, and a belief in collective accountability. There must be a strategic pathway for moving the organization forward, with indicators/metrics to allow gathering of evidence and tracking and monitoring progress so that adjustments can be made in reaching the shared vision. Today's challenge is moving towards tightly coupled teams, forging different connections; learning walks is one tool in the leadership toolbox for school and system leaders. This webinar will generate conversations about Learning Walks for Leaders and include options and opportunities for follow-up.

JAN 18 | Professional Collaborative Inquiry As A Learning Tool For Educational Leaders

Wednesday | 10 am MT | 11 am CT | 12 pm ET | 9 am PT

**Live session will be recorded and be available to all those who register**

FREE 30-min WEBINAR

Schools and school systems are shifting from organizations focused on teaching to ones focused on learning for all. At the core of Professional Collaborative Inquiry or PCI is professional curiosity and a culture of collaboration and inquiry. Questions, areas of uncertainty, of wonder, of perplexing notions and innovation are some of the mindsets described in the process of Professional Collaborative Inquiry. It begins with an authentic need to learn more about both student learning and our own learning as educators. This webinar will generate conversations about the value/need for professional inquiry and provide options and opportunities for follow-up.
